Stockholm Junior Water Prize
annual process

Students are sending in their projects to the national organizers in the respective countries. They all have different deadlines and processes.

Next years procedure begins. New countries apply to participate. Participating countries renew their contracts and plans. Marketing to schools and students start.

The international jury reads through the projects.

World Water Week: 27 August-1 September. Two days of jury interviews, the award ceremony, study tours and several other activities take place in Stockholm.

Deadline for all to forward a winning project and team of students who will represent the country at the international final in Stockholm.
